LUCKY LADY & HER PUPS

Lady is a healthy chunk now! She looks fantastic! It was an uphill battle and she had to be treated for heartworm too.

Thanks Dr. Thomas for doing such an excellent job in treating her heartworms.

Heartworms come when a dog is bitten by a mosquito. Make sure your dog gets monthly heartworm preventative pills every month all year. Talk to your veterinarian about it.

Thank you Kim for being such a SUPER FOSTER MOM for Lady and her puppies and the trips to the vet offices.

A healthy & happy Adopted Lady!

Lady & her pups before their rescue & treatment.

Lady enjoys playing in her yard!

Lady struggled to keep her eight pups alive even when she was close to death herself. Two pups died right after being rescued; they were in such bad shape with coccidia, intestinal worms and pooping blood. It was very sad! Six pups happily survived and are adopted into loving homes!

If you have adopted from us, please email us your pet's names, pictures, and updates! We would love to hear from you!

Do you think dogs can fly? We know they can!

Julep flies to safety. Pregnant with pups. She touches ground.

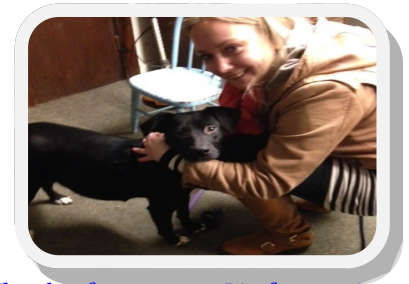

Julep had 8 pups!

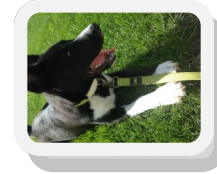

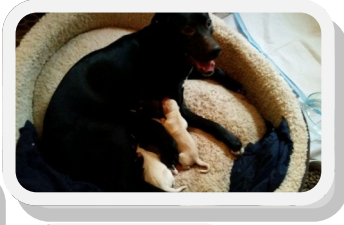

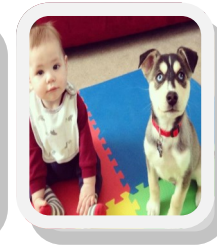

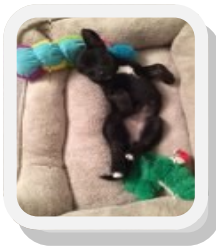

These 4 cuties are hers.

Julep, the Black Lab Gets an Emergency Flight up Before Her Pups are Born

We saved her from a crowded shelter in the nick of time to save her life. We found out afterwards she was pregnant. Thanks so much to Pilots for Paws for getting her to us right away. Julep had a private four legged copilot. He was dressed in doggie ear muffs, and all to protect his ears from noise, since he copilots a lot when helping homeless animals. His ear gear is off in the picture. If anyone wants to help with fostering pregnant Moms e-mail us at animalsanctuary@aol.com.

Thanks, foster mom Liz for coming through to foster very pregnant, Julep!

Buckle Up Your Pets: It's The Law

Have you seen vehicles traveling with their dogs sticking their heads out of the window or sitting on their owner's lap?

Not only isn't this a safe way for a pet to travel, but it's illegal in New Jersey. New Jersey has passed a law requiring drivers to restrain pets inside their cars; this means that pets can't lean their heads out of windows or sit in driver's laps. In NJ, drivers with unrestrained pets can receive a fine of $250-$1000, or even disorderly offence under animal cruelty.

Animals act like flying missiles in an impact and can not only hurt themselves but hurt their humans, too. Dogs that hang so far out the window could leap out. The law allows NJSPCA officers to pull drivers that they believe to be transporting animals improperly.

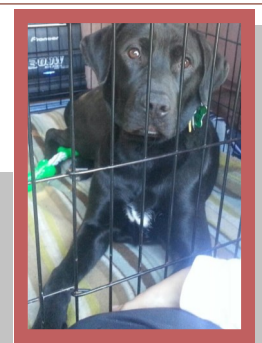

Sadly, 100,000 dogs die each year falling from or jumping out of pickup truck beds. A total of 10 states have passed laws requiring drivers to restrain any pets riding in open parts of a moving vehicle. If you secure your pet in a crate or harness so they can't fall out of the truck bed, you shouldn't get in trouble from law enforcement. The details vary state to state. Remember: Keep in mind safety for you & your pet while traveling. Also keep in mind weather conditions: too hot or too cold! While harnesses are the best way to keep your beloved pet from going airborne in the unfortunate event of an accident, there are many ways to make pets safe. Keeping dogs out of the front seat is a way to ensure that the driver can stay focused, making the ride safer for both furry and human passengers. For animals that climb up to the front seat even when they're placed in the back, consider securing them in a crate. If your dog's crate doesn't fit in the car, you can buy a barrier to keep them out of the front seat.

ANIMALS TRAVELING SAFELY IN VEHICLES

Just recently, we have been getting emails that someone in NJ was in a car accident, and their beloved cat is now missing out of the car. For days, the pet parent is desperately trying to find her cat and asking for help sending out emails to rescues. IT IS SO HEARTBREAKING!

We also know a young woman that was driving with her cat, and was in a car accident. The car windows crashed out, and the cat got lost. That woman searched so very long many times for her cat and couldn't find her. PLEASE READ THE ADVICE IN THE PREVIOUS ARTICLE ABOVE TO PREVENT FURTHER SUCH TRAGEDIES FROM HAPPENING IN THE FUTURE!

Cooper & Fletcher are ready to travel safely in their crates!

Many Are Enjoying Love & The Good Life Now!

Saved in the nick of time!

Bella lives on a lake and beautiful countryside with a super loving family and a large extended family visiting with friendly dogs.

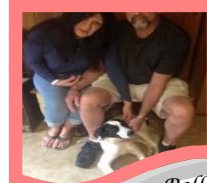

Parker (on the right) is pictured here with his sister. As a puppy he was pulled from a kill shelter on the day he was going to be euthanized due to lack of space. His pet mom says that he is the "love of her life" & frequently sends us pictures of Parker's new life: riding in the car or the boat, or at the beach.

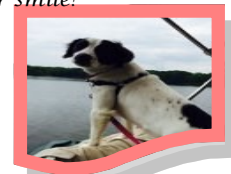

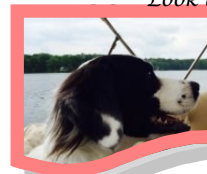

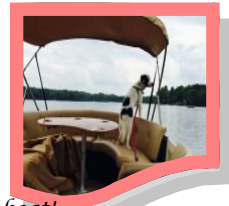

Your donations help change the world for Parker & many, many, more precious dolls like him. Look at that big smile!

"Hey, I'm ready for my seatbelt!"

Thanks, Parker

*Bella loves her boat!

Eloise Mends a Heart

"I didn't realize I had a hole in my heart that needed to be filled until I met Eloise," states the 10 year girl pet parent (standing next to her Mom in this picture) the day she adopted Eloise. The girls decided to change Eloise's name to Coco. Coco attended beginners classes at Petsmart. The family signed her up the same day she was adopted & bought her new pet supplies while they were there.

Memorials to our loved ones

Pablo was 2 years old when I adopted him from ASSI. He was very sweet and remained that way until the day he passed. Pablo had a very good life with me. He was 13 years old when he passed and I had the pleasure of having 8 years with him. He would wake me up every morning to eat. He was my alarm clock. He loved being outside but I would not let him go out. Although at times, he would sneak out when I would come home with my hands full. He was a very smart cat! I miss Pablo very much and always will. He was my best furry friend.

Liz, one of our dear foster parents, lost her beloved Luna to cancer. Liz was so terrific with Luna, making sure she was comfortable as she battled her cancer.

Luna was rescued from a shelter after being given up twice and having puppies. She finally found a loving home. She was such a great companion, she never left her owner's side. Luna had two hip replacements and a bout with cancer where she had to undergo chemotherapy. She had arthritis in her joints but she never stopped wagging her tail. She was always willing to give up her bed and food dish for foster pups her mom took in. Luna lived to old age being loved and giving love.

Trooper brought enjoyment to mom & family

To the Dear People at Animal Sanctuary,

On January 27, 2009, we adopted an adorable Wire Haired Terrier from Animal Sanctuary. Trooper (his name was originally Lucky) came to us at age 10 just shy of his 11th birthday. We adopted him for my mother who lived with us and was 91 at the time. When I first called about Trooper, we thought that he was 6. When we were told he might be 8, I was unsure if we wanted to adopt a dog that might not live very long. The woman on the phone assured me that this dog might be the perfect companion for my mom and that we should come to see him. Well, we all fell in love with him at first sight and pet! Then we found out he was 10, and turning 11 on April 1st. But it did not matter!

Trooper was wonderful with all of us but a constant companion for my mom. He slept next to her bed and followed her to the bathroom on each of her nightly trips. At times my mom would ask me where he was. We would laugh because he would be right behind her! He was such a loving dog and we were so very lucky to have him. My mother passed away at the age of 96 on January 24, 2014. Trooper followed 7 weeks later on March 13, 2014. He was 3 weeks shy of his 16th birthday. My mother's biggest fear was that her beloved Trooper would die before her, but he remained vigilant till the day she died at home.

I am sorry that I did not write this sooner, but doing it was much harder than I thought. But I did want to thank you so much for the enjoyment Trooper brought to my mom and our family.

Sincerely, Rosemary Thompson

Sincerely,
Rosemary Thompson

Memorials and Survivors

Raven before rescue

Raven after rescue

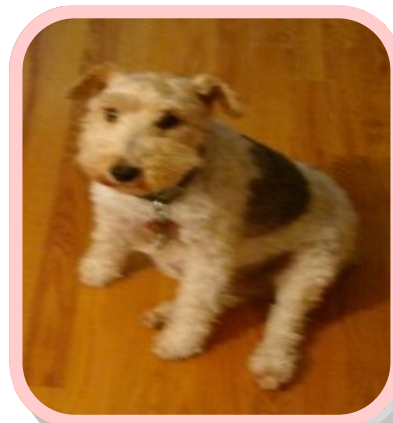

Raven's kittens rescued

Raven and her five kittens were saved just before they were going to be euthanized at an overcrowded shelter. One kitten had a serious underlying problem and had to be euthanized at the ER even after being at the vet's office and receiving great care from foster mom, Liz; who tried her best to nurture the kitten following doctors instructions and providing it with lots of loving care. She carried the kitten all over the house with her to be sure it was safe and loved. We are so appreciative of Liz's kind loving heart that she shared with this little angel. The good news is that Raven and her four other kittens have been adopted into loving homes.

Pepper gave great joy and is sadly missed!

An older couple adopted Pepper from us years ago. She died several weeks ago. The couple has called us and emailed us several times about their deep sad loss. They informed us she gave them great joy. They miss her so very much.

Keep your pet safe & healthy !

Flea and Tick preventative should be used on all animals year round. Dogs can get Lyme disease from a tick bite just like people. Try to keep animals out of long grass, bushes, and leaf piles and be sure to check your pet thoroughly every day. Ticks can be as small as a little dot. If a dog eats a flea, it can get tape worm from it.

SAVED FROM SURE DEATH AT AN OVERCROWDED KILL SHELTER, TO DOING GOD'S WORK

Tucker was going to be euthanized because there was no more room for him at an overcrowded shelter. And look at him now! We are so proud of him and his pet parent. They do such good deeds together helping children and adults!

Tucker has a TDI canine good citizen and Therapy Dog Certification!

Tucker is giving emotional support to special needs children.

Our Dogs Help Veterans with Post Traumatic Stress

Sarge

We knew Dallas aka Sarge was an exceptional dog and when a local organization, who we knew and trusted, needed a trained service dog to help a veteran with PTS, we highly recommended Sarge. He went through a vigorous six month service dog training. We were thrilled and so proud of Sarge at his graduation ceremony, where we met his new family and veteran who now has him as his service dog and pet.

Sarge means the world to the veteran who suffered from PTS. The Iraqi war had taken its toll on the veteran. Because of the help of Sarge, the veteran is able to work and help other veterans in the city. Sarge goes to work everyday with him. At the ceremony, the veteran was in tears, especially remembering at the beginning of the war, a little Iraqi girl who waved a stuffed toy (she got from the American soldiers - Americans from home would send toys for the Iraqi children) in the middle of the road when they were in the truck. The little girl warned her American friends of danger ahead. Afterwards, it was realized by the military, that it was not safe for the children to befriend them because of terrible consequences for the children.

Presently, Sarge also helps the veteran shop in stores and will go in front or behind the veteran if someone is coming too close making it possible for the veteran to be able to go into stores. Thank you and lots of paw hugs to you Sarge.
